COOPERATION in the CONSERVATION of ELECTRICITY and GAS

Read these excerpts from a letter addressed to Utilities and Their Customers by J. A. Krug, Director, Office of War Utilities.

The War Production Board has proclaimed that maximum war production requires the greatest possible conservation of manpower, transportation, fuel, equipment, and critical materials such as copper, steel, tungsten, and many others—much greater than has been heretofore accomplished.

We cannot exert maximum force against our enemies if waste on the home front is tolerated.

In the electric utility industry, the installed generating capacity, together with capacity under construction, is ample to meet all foreseeable electric needs. But it is essential to save the use of electricity wherever possible so as to reduce, directly or indirectly, the demands for materials, fuel, transportation and manpower.

The desired result will be obtained through the full cooperation of millions of people in the conservation program. With everyone contributing, the effect will be tremendous in hastening the day of Victory.

By pledging ourselves to the following platform, this company, its 12,000 employees and its 1,700,000 customers can cooperate as partners in the Conservation Program:

1. We will WASTE NOT so that our fighting men will WANT NOT.
2. We will watch to prevent waste of gas and electricity as we watch a leaking faucet.
3. We will buy only those home appliances we need and take care of those we own.
4. We will put every possible dollar of savings into War Bonds and Stamps.

Gas and Electricity are Vital in War Production—do not waste them!

M. P. Council Rejects Housing

MENLO PARK — The Menlo Park City Council Tuesday, reversed a decision of the City Planning Commission by rejecting the 37-lot war housing subdivision which Dulleck Bros., developers, have asked to build between Laurel St., Glenwood Ave. and the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks near Felton Gables.

The council's reversal was based on the point that lots as shown on the map presented as a description of the property showed the parcels to be less than 45 feet wide, as required by city ordinance.

The planning commission, at a meeting Monday night, gave the developers the green light after they could find no legal basis, as provided by ordinance, to reject the project.

Both the council meeting Tuesday and the planning commission meeting Monday were attended by scores of property owners from Felton Gables district who voiced violent objections to the proposed project.

Donald Fletcher, whose home is on Glenwood Ave., charged that these new subdivision homes would be low-cost dwellings; that they would be unsightly; that they would deteriorate more rapidly than better-class homes, and that they would be so closely set that they would tend to create a slum district.

Fletcher said that homes in the surrounding area, especially in Atherton, are given 28,000 square feet of space as compared with 5000 square feet per home in the proposed new subdivision.

M. C. West of Felton Gables pointed out that 37 homes on so small a patch of land would detract in appearance from the adjacent dwellings and would decrease the value of property in that section.

Charles Merrill, also representing property owners, corroborated Fletcher's request that the council defer action on approval or rejection of the project until surrounding property owners could present a conclusive case, giving all the facts.

Both the Dulleck brothers pointed out that the homes they proposed to build on the new subdivision were neither slum dwellings nor unsightly shacks, but would be six-room homes, ultimately to have garages, and would cost in the neighborhood of $5600 each.

The council passed a motion to refer the project back to the planning commission with a recommendation that the proposed subdivision property be rezoned to a AAA classification to correspond with the zoning of Felton Gables not necessarily holding to the more liberal zoning of Atherton.

The council also approved a motion to permit rezoning of the Jay Franklin duplex subdivision at Pine and Cherry Sts. The project was approved by the planning commission at an earlier meeting.

The bid Stone & Youngberg, San Francisco bond brokers, for $8144.23 of street improvement bonds was accepted by the council. The bids stipulated $100 par value with a premium of $17.95 and interest at the rate of 4¾ per cent.

Hanford & Talbot, the only other bidders, offered $100 plus a premium of $9.90 and interest at 4¾ per cent.

On the recommendation of City Engineer Edwin H. Smith bids for improving Fremont and Florence Sts., for which the bonds will be sold, was deferred until discrepancies in bid figures could be ironed out.

W. O. Tyson, Redwood City, bid $24,038.10; Union Paving Co., San Francisco, $12,385.60; L. C. Smith, San Mateo, $20,222.39.

SERVICE PARTY: Officials Seek Additional Hostesses

An appeal was made today by officials of the National War Fund and Redwood City Community Chest for hostesses for the servicemen's party to be held in the boys' gymnasium at Sequoia High School Saturday night, Oct. 9.

One hundred girls to date have promised to act as hostesses, the hostess committee announced, but at least another hundred are needed. Anyone wishing to act as hostess may contact Miss Marjorie Heiry, Mrs. Joseph Britschgi or Mrs. Earl Hook.

Jerry Cooper of the American Legion is inviting 250 servicemen to the party, and the committee wants to be certain there will be enough dancing partners on hand to assure them a good time.

Mrs. J. W. Brand, ticket committee chairman, has urged persons other than servicemen and hostesses planning to attend to buy their tickets early. There will be only 1000 sold, it was announced.

Mrs. Howard Buys Herrscher Furs

Mrs. Lindsay Howard, whose husband is the son of the late Fannie May Herrscher, Monday in superior court at Redwood City purchased furs and clothing from Mrs. Herrscher's huge estate for $16,702.

The sale was held up temporarily while court attaches checked a rumor that a $20,000 bid would be offered.

Mrs. Herrscher's estate has caused considerable court letigation here since her death.

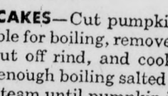
Julia says— Here's how with fall vegetables



I FOUND, long ago, that fall vegetables can really be both good and different! Take parsnips and rutabagas, for instances. If your family hasn't been too keen about them before, they might like them this way. I know my family does, and they're inclined to turn up their noses at them served in any other way. Here are some suggestions for those two fall vegetables, and others too:

CANDIED PARSNIPS — Wash and scrape or peel parsnips, and cook whole or cut in halves lengthwise. Cook covered in small amount of salted water, about 30 minutes or until tender. Drain, sprinkle with brown sugar, salt and pepper and bake in moderate oven about 15 minutes, basting parsnips once or twice with hot water and meat drippings. Serve as you would sweet potatoes.

SPICED RUTABAGAS—(This goes for turnips, too.) Wash and slice rutabagas, and cook covered until tender in just enough hot, salted water to create a steam, about 15 minutes. Drain and mash and season with salt, pepper and a little ground cinnamon and cloves if you like.

CAULIFLOWER SALAD—Wash cauliflower, and separate into tiny flowerlets or chop coarsely. Add raisins, chopped apple, chopped nut meats and marinate in a tart light dressing. Serve on a bed of shredded spinach. This really tastes better than it sounds!

PUMPKIN CAKES—Cut pumpkin into pieces suitable for boiling, remove seeds and fiber, cut off rind, and cook covered in just enough boiling salted water to create a steam until pumpkin is tender, about 20 to 30 minutes. Drain, mash and season with salt and pepper. Add just enough evaporated or fresh milk to form a smooth mixture. Form into cakes or patties and brown quickly in hot drippings or shortening. Serve in place of potatoes or as any other vegetable. The winter varieties of squash may be prepared in the same manner.

STUFFED SQUASH—Use small individual squashes like Danish. Split squash, remove seeds and parboil in salted water until almost tender. Drain and fill cavities with chopped, cooked meat and tomato mixture. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) for about 30 minutes or until squash is thoroughly tender and meat mixture is heated through.
